System Requirements:

While PC GPUs that support CUDA 8.0 and above should run this benchmark without problem, we have found a few limitations on some older NVIDIA GPUs. Please read the following known limitations and use the provided NVIDIA suggestions to test your system on our website. 1. Due to driver issues, the recommended minimum specification for this benchmark may not be achievable in practice. This is because users may experience frameskips and stuttering issues, due to insufficient driver support for the GPU's maximum shader units, particularly shader units greater than 8.0. This may occur on
